

InfraCap MLP ETF (NYSE: AMZA) DECLARES MONTHLY DISTRIBUTION

New York City, NY – January 18, 2019 – The InfraCap MLP ETF (NYSE: AMZA) (the “Fund”) has declared a monthly distribution of $0.08 ($0.96 per share on an annualized basis). The dividend will be paid January 30, 2019 to shareholders of record as of the close of business January 23, 2019.

The monthly dividend rate of $0.08 per share ($0.96 per annum) is lowered from the prior rate of $0.11 per share ($1.32 per annum), a rate which had been in place since January 2018. The Fund recently adopted a policy of reviewing the distribution level on a semi-annual basis.

Jay D. Hatfield, Chief Executive Officer of Infrastructure Capital Advisors, commented: “The midstream MLP industry is emerging from a period of financial restructuring. Despite a healthy operating environment, twelve companies reduced their distributions in 2018, resulting in a reduced flow of funds to investors. The cumulative impact of the lowered payments is the key factor driving the fund’s distribution reduction.”

“Midstream MLPs enter 2019 in a stronger financial position, with reduced leverage, better coverage of distributions, the elimination of incentive distribution rights and improved governance,” Hatfield continued. “We believe the industry is at an inflection point, ending a period of distribution cuts related to restructurings and entering a period of growth for the industry’s distributions to investors.”

AMZA Cash Distribution:

- Ex-Date: Tuesday, January 22, 2019
- Record Date: Wednesday, January 23, 2019
- Payable Date: Wednesday, January 30, 2019

The fund estimates that 100 percent of the distribution, or $0.08 per share, is attributable to return of capital and that 0.00 percent, or $0.00 per share, is attributable to dividend income. Infrastructure Capital Advisors expects to declare future distributions on a monthly basis. Distributions are planned, but not guaranteed, for every month. The next distribution is scheduled to occur in February 2019.

DISCLOSURE

Fund Risks

Exchange Traded Funds: The value of an ETF may be more volatile than the underlying portfolio of securities the ETF is designed to track. The costs of owning the ETF may exceed the cost of investing directly in the underlying securities.

MLP Interest Rates: As yield-based investments, MLPs carry interest rate risk and may underperform in rising interest rate environments. Additionally, when investors have heightened fears about the economy, the risk spread between MLPs and competing investment options can widen, which may have an adverse effect on the stock price of MLPs. Rising interest rates may increase the potential cost of MLPs financing projects or cost of operations, and may affect the demand for MLP investments, either of which may result in lower performance by or distributions from the Fund's MLP investments.

Industry/Sector Concentration: A fund that focuses its investments in a particular industry or sector will be more sensitive to conditions that affect that industry or sector than a non-concentrated fund.

Short Sales: The fund may engage in short sales, and may experience a loss if the price of a borrowed security increases before the date on which the fund replaces the security.

Leverage: When a fund leverages its portfolio, the value of its shares may be more volatile and all other risks may be compounded.

Derivatives: Investments in derivatives such as futures, options, forwards, and swaps may increase volatility or cause a loss greater than the principal investment.

MLPs: Investments in Master Limited Partnerships may be adversely impacted by tax law changes, regulation, or factors affecting underlying assets.

No Guarantee: There is no guarantee that the portfolio will meet its objective.
