A Multi-Asset Income Solution

- 1. Convertibles – Offer current income, while striving to mitigate downside risk, and provide potential capital appreciation
- 2. High yield bonds – May help lower volatility and provide income potential through high coupons
- 3. Large-cap equities – May provide capital appreciation/dividend income; an opportunistic covered-call strategy can also add income

“At Allianz Global Investors, we believe the current market environment calls for a broader income toolkit that includes less traditional income-generating strategies. Virtus AllianzGI Income & Growth Fund has a time-tested track record of generating income through monthly distributions, using a multi-sleeve approach that provides a range of other potential benefits.”

CIO U.S. Income & Growth Strategies, Portfolio Manager

A Total-Portfolio Approach to Distribution Generation

Rather than focus on income in terms of yield percentages, AllianzGI manages the Fund with the goal of generating steady monthly distributions, regardless of the market environment.

Here's how it works:

The Fund invests in three sleeves

This provides seven potential distribution sources classified in two ways

While the distribution amount has been strongly consistent, the make-up may vary in different market environments

Class A shares as of 06/30/2021. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The Fund paid quarterly distributions in 2007 and due to an accounting error, did not pay its entire distribution in December 2009 even though it was earned. The chart highlights distribution payments that are made on our regular monthly distribution schedule.

¹ An opportunistic covered call strategy may be implemented, generally overwriting up to 70% notional value of the individual stock positions. Income distributions are net of fees/expenses. Effective February 1, 2021, this fund's name and investment adviser have changed. The fund's distributor is now VP Distributors, LLC.

manager(s) to invest the portfolio's assets as intended. Issuer Risk: The portfolio will be affected by factors specific to the issuers of securities and other instruments in which the portfolio invests, including actual or perceived changes in the financial condition or business prospects of such issuers. High Yield Fixed Income Securities: There is a greater risk of issuer default, less liquidity, and increased price volatility related to high yield securities than investment grade securities. Equity Securities: The market price of equity securities may be adversely affected by financial market, industry, or issuer-specific events. Focus on a particular style or on small or medium-sized companies may enhance that risk. Unrated Fixed Income Securities: If the quality of an unrated fixed income security is not accurately assessed, the portfolio may invest in a security with greater risk than intended. Debt Instruments: Debt instruments are subject to greater levels of credit and liquidity risk, may be speculative and may decline in value due to changes in interest rates or an issuer's or counterparty's deterioration or default. Derivatives: Investments in derivatives such as futures, options, forwards, and swaps may increase volatility or cause a loss greater than the principal investment. Convertible Securities: A convertible security may be called for redemption at a time and price unfavorable to the portfolio. Prospectus: For additional information on risks, please see the fund's prospectus.

Morningstar: Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or 'star rating,' is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. Ratings do not take into account the effect of sales charges and loads.
