

2022 Foreign Tax Information

The foreign tax reported on Form 1099-DIV is the portion of taxes paid to foreign countries by funds that elect to pass through those taxes to shareholders. Your portion of the foreign taxes paid by the fund is shown in Box 7 on Form 1099-DIV. You may use the foreign tax paid to offset your U.S. income tax liability.

Please consult your tax advisor for information on how you might be able to use this data when preparing your tax return.

The following is a list of Virtus Mutual Funds that are eligible and have elected to pass through foreign source income and foreign taxes to their shareholders:

| 2022 Percentage of Income from      | Foreign Source Income | Qualifying Foreign Source Income |
|--|------------------------------|---|
| Virtus Emerging Markets Opportunities Fund | 100.00%                      | 78.34%                                  |
| Virtus International Small-Cap Fund        | 100.00%                      | 100.00%                                 |
| Virtus KAR Developing Markets Fund         | 100.00%                      | 100.00%                                 |
| Virtus NFJ Emerging Markets Value Fund     | 100.00%                      | 53.94%                                  |
| Virtus NFJ International Value Fund        | 100.00%                      | 100.00%                                 |

Use the above information to assist with the preparation of IRS Form 1116 (Form 1118 for corporations). You do not need to report foreign income or taxes passed through from a mutual fund on a country-by-country basis.

To determine your share of the Fund's Foreign Source Income and Qualifying Foreign Source Income, multiply the applicable percentage above by the amount of your Total Ordinary Dividends shown in Box 1a of Form 1099-DIV. Ordinary dividends of a mutual fund include net investment income and short-term gains.

Please refer to the IRS tax form instructions and IRS Publication 514, Foreign Tax Credit for Individuals (available at the IRS website irs.gov) for additional information.
