

CHANGING DEMOGRAPHICS CREATE GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES

“Globally, demand from the middle class may grow from USD 21 trillion to USD 56 trillion by 2030...over 80% of the growth in demand comes from Asia.”

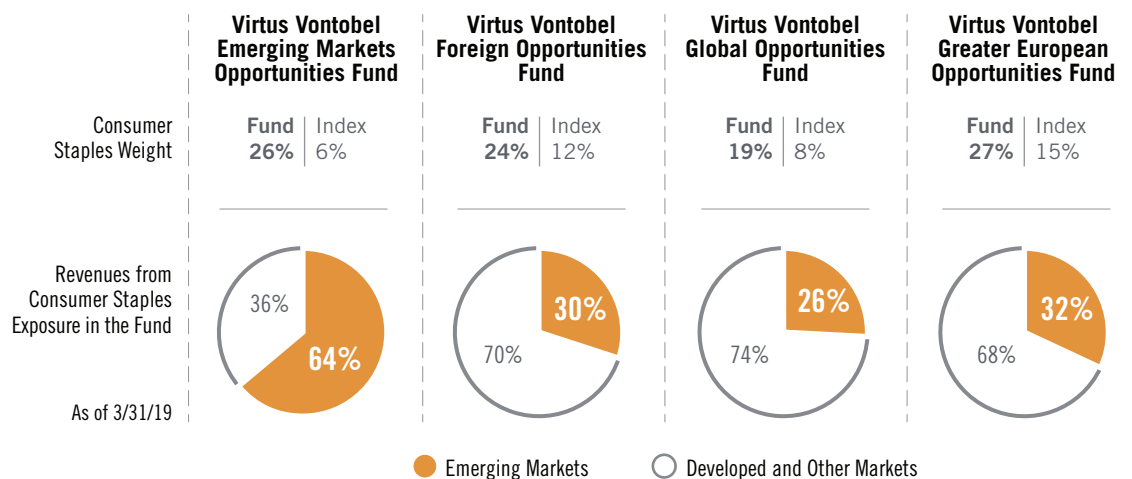

Shifting demographics of middle class consumption from traditional developed markets—the U.S., Europe, Japan—to the emerging markets creates a tremendous opportunity for companies serving those consumers.

Vontobel Asset Management is poised to capitalize on the far-reaching economic and financial impact of this shift through their investment bias toward consumer staples companies.
